Interested in accessing
Bibliography of the History of Art (BHA) via the World Wide Web (WWW)?

The Bibliography of the History of Art (BHA) is the most comprehensive and up-to-date art history bibliography, covering European and American art from late antiquity to the present. BHA indexes and gives an abstract of articles from over 2,500 periodicals, as well as art related books, conference proceedings, dissertations and exhibition and art dealers' catalogues since 1973. BHA is updated quarterly.

BHA can be searched from any computer with a Web-browser, such as Internet Explorer/Safari. No password is required to use BHA.

From the Faculty Library home-page, click on Bibliographic databases for Electronic Resources (eresources@cambridge). Click on Find databases. Type BHA in the box and press Find Resources and click on the link to Bibliography of the History of Art (BHA).

Alternatively, from the Cambridge University Library home-page (www.lib.cam.ac.uk) click on Digital Library in the top bar then select Electronic Resources and then continue as per the instructions above.

Enter a search term in the box marked Search for and select BibHistArt from the dropdown menu in the box which says Select a Topic or Database. Alternatively use the Advanced Search option.

To print just press File and select Print. Please fetch printing from the printer on the Librarians’ table.

BHA searching is generally straightforward, but please ask a member of Library staff if you need assistance.
